WHERE WORK MEETS FAITH

Experiential story telling is open to all to share that which they value the most. Talking about that which one values the most levels the playing field for all. Bringing help to each other is even more inspiring.

Every person has a job to do on this earth that only they can do. Do you know yours? Would you like to do more work you prefer? Would you like to be more engaged at work? Would you like to have more sense of community at work?

To prepare to answer these and other questions, please go to www.Loquate.tv.

The term "work" as used throughout the Program is as broadly defined as possible. Everyone works, from an adult student 18 and over whose work is being a student, to an employed adult whose work is their job, to a homemaker, to a volunteer whose work is volunteering, to a retired person whose work may include fun work without pay.

RESOURCES

- 9-9-9 Digital Retreat - Find your story in God's story. You can't know your story until you know God's story.
- Specialized. Covers all basic information "Where Work Meets Faith" but takes a fraction of the time of an ordinary retreat to complete, about 5 hours anywhere, any time. Uses smart phone or computer convenience.
- Enjoy a live discussion meeting. Many say they most find God in the small group discussion.

9-9-9 Retreat and small group enriches and makes fulfilling everyday work through God.

Why Take a Catholic Retreat?

If any man teaches God's story, who is to say that man's teaching is authentic for another man? Someone needs to decide what writings should become part of scripture called the bible. There wasn't a New Testament until the third century. The Catholic Church from the beginning formed a gathering of scholars to study and gather the Old and New Testament writings into scripture. The word catholic means universal. So one who relies on the Bible may be presented with a unified opinion of God revealing himself from the Catholic Church, as opposed to every man deciding for himself what to believe.
