What is the Loquate small group?

Loquate's small group program offers Scientific Momentum Activating Righteous Transformation through Natural Law. The science states innate needs are satisfied by primary values. The innate needs of humankind may be the greatest discovery in Natural Law ever. Everyone has innate needs. The innate needs are cited in hundreds of thousands of Academic Research articles since 1981 based on the work of Deci and Ryan who state:

“The findings have led to the postulate of three innate psychological needs—competence, autonomy, and relatedness—which when satisfied yield enhanced self-motivation and mental health and when thwarted lead to diminished motivation and well-being.”

Ryan sees “Amazing Convergence” with Loquate's primary values which become Smart® habits that satisfy innate needs. Like sailors eating limes to prevent scurvy, Smart® habits overcome the scurvy of the human spirit which is diminished motivation and well-being. Interfaith small group members build community in every group of which they are a part, and individually tend toward happiness or joy.

What are the benefits of joining a Loquate small group?

Our small groups reinforce habits that satisfy innate needs and build community. The words “That which you value the most for the common good,” Spirit, and God are used interchangeably in our resources. The highest form of community is Spirit-centered community.

Small group feedback scores confirm a high degree of satisfaction when fulfilling innate needs that deliver Spirit-centered community becomes the norm. Scientifically Smart® habits build community.

- Low time commitment. Meets 2 hours per month, plus two 4-hour retreats per year.
- High value. In our small group, we believe that God speaks to us thru our interiorly preferred work. By prayer, encouragement and community learn how you can use your faith to influence your work - and to overcome the challenges and obstacles that we all face in our jobs.
- Satisfy innate needs. Our small group is functional when it satisfies innate needs and builds community.

What is the cost?

Loquate is a charitable non-profit organization and there are no costs to participate. Loquate's website is ad free sacred space. Donations are accepted.

What kind of organization is Loquate?

Loquate is a charitable non-profit organization focused on building sense of community. You build community in any environment when you are empowered to do so.

Loquate's mission is to work with members of groups and organizations:

- To develop the member's diversity and sense of shared humanity thru self awareness,
- To develop a sense of community in small groups of self aware members,
- To develop the sense of community within the larger group or organization of which they are a part,
- To develop the larger group or organization into a catalyst for the sense of community in its surrounding environment,

- To spread the sense of community throughout our fragile world using small functional incubator groups to serve as a model for peace.

Is the Loquate small group program universal?

The Loquate small group program is universal. Like solving an equation, knowing what to solve for is key. The Loquate X factor is freedom to live your deepest beliefs in harmony with all. Freedom to live your deepest beliefs is what makes it universal.

By universal, I, Jeff Liautaud, President of Loquate, mean: "I will not deny my beliefs. I will speak them. I expect you to do the same. However interfaith dialogue requires no proselytizing. That means the total purpose of Loquate is to understand you. At my website, I will express everything about "unity for all" in the image of two of the world's greatest spiritual leaders."

Mentors.

Why Mary is needed? She was holy beyond any created person, save Jesus.

I will teach by example. The example is my own. I have undergone many experiences at the full life expectancy of my age. In this time, I went thru many phases. Each phase brought awareness. Yet in 1970, I began Loquate as an avocation to build community.

Over 50 years ago I set out trying to educate myself on sense of community.

I first experienced sense of community from two back-to-back school experiences: one without, and one with, sense of community. Then later, after graduation, I experienced two environments meeting people: one without, and one with, sense of community. Meeting a person at the most popular bar in Manhattan, was very different from meeting a person in the student union of the school with the sense of community. I longed to bottle the difference. So as to offer it widespread. Scientifically I believed it was possible.

Fifty volunteer years later, I understand “you” make the difference when “you” are empowered to do so. The empowerment occurs in small groups. In science you have to know what equation to solve for. The Loquate X Factor is “Freedom to live one’s deepest beliefs in harmony with all.”

Let us call the source of this empowerment as “That which you value the most for the common good,” or Spirit, or God. Let us use the words interchangeably. Because in our program only God can empower.

The interfaith miracle of the Loquate experience is that you never get into differences of belief. You share experience, not advice. You learn to trust another’s good common sense ability to find their own path to God. With time and faith, this is fulfilling work. God did not have in mind that we kill each other because we have different beliefs. Now in my life I did not come straight at God. A friend said it well. “I was going down a lot of wrong paths and it wasn’t working. God was always there, but not until I came to God, did I experience peace.” So if the empowerment of this website is finding God in you, and in permitting you to see God in all those around you, who can argue with the beauty of that?
