Receive our free white paper to learn how corporations measure community at 4 critical points. If you can't measure community, you can't monitor community.

Our Turnkey begins in a corporation, incentivizes employee participation in the Loquate small group program, and empowers individuals as community ambassadors.

- Turnkey includes Community outreach “in unity for all.”
- Participation learning in Loquate's small group program is open to all employees, saves individual time, builds community, creates happiness or joy in through and by Natural Law, not religious teaching.

Professional Affirmation

“Hi again Jeff... I see remarkable convergence with our work,” said Richard M. Ryan co-author Cited by hundreds of thousands of Academic Research articles since 1981, and co-discoverer of the innate needs of human kind which may be, the greatest discovery in Natural Law, ever.

The Research cited also shows that the more people focus on goal content with selfish aims, like money, image, power etc., which do not directly satisfy innate needs and often crowd them out, the less happy they are—even when they attain them. The more they place value on community, the greater their well being and happiness.

- The Loquate small group experience is that no man is an island. Together we are far stronger than one alone. Because by recognizing concerns, we can share relevant resolution stories, not advice. So that we have more freedom to live our deepest beliefs in harmony with all.

Freedom to live your deepest beliefs in harmony with all empowers you to become a community ambassador creating your best place to live/work.

---

- Even though Loquate has two programs, one within the Catholic Church since 1987 and one outside the Catholic Church since 1970, both build community “in unity for all mankind.”
- We do not want to take anything away from any individual’s deepest beliefs. Freedom to live your deepest beliefs in harmony with all is Loquate's X factor.
- Can you think of the best experience of your life? Does it have to do with "That which you value the most for the common good," or Spirit, or God? If so, you validated our experience that the highest form of community is Spirit-centered. That is the kind of community Loquate delivers. Totally inclusive of atheist, agnostic or believer, Loquate’s small group program wisely follows principles from experts on Interfaith Dialogue. Without proselytizing and largely listening well, individuals focus on changing only them self and no one else.

Turnkey Results are far reaching. See if your corporation can qualify. Contact Jeff and receive a corporation needs assessment form.

Loquate is community.

Only community is peace, happiness, and joy.

Loquate defines sense of community as an environment characterized by togetherness and sharing as opposed to cool detachment. The leaders in the environment know the members and go out of their way to be helpful. Though the members are quite diverse, personal diversity is celebrated for its contribution. There is a sense of group loyalty and group support. The atmosphere is cohesive. The environment is a community.

Delivering community is a complex topic, but it can be fulfilled through community ambassadors. Rest assured that whatever has not been discussed, we have an answer for. So just ask your question of us at any time. And if we don't have an answer, we will research it and get back to you. It's what we do.
