The words “That which you value the most for the common good,” Spirit, and God are used interchangeably in our resources.

Loquate relies on over 50 years' experience creating safe sharing environments “in unity for all.” Its Smart® protocol is helping another accomplish that which they value the most for the common good.

Our Smart® group follows this process:

- self change, not changing another,
- relevant resolution story telling, not advice,
- satisfy innate needs, put into us by our Creator, not ordinary conversation.

Principles of Interfaith Dialogue insure no proselytizing during meetings, and insures “unity for all.”

- Interfaith dialogue is first and foremost an attitude that is acquired as the result of listening to various points of view and ultimately forming one's own view of other religions. An attitude could be defined as a manner of acting or thinking; a disposition, opinion or mental set.
- Interfaith dialogue consists essentially in hearing each other. Interfaith dialogue is living together in spite of our differences. Differences make sense when they are well understood. Be respectful of differences.
- Avoid proselytizing during interfaith dialogue. Be true to your beliefs. State your own beliefs when appropriate.
- But mainly listen well, which means hearing an entire message.
- Build unity. Be united in faith in God, for love of fellow man, for peace on earth, and for the greater glory of God.
