

Is nature a false goddess?

R091-ac

It depends where you look. If by nature you mean inert matter, anything of the flesh not of God, then “Yes. Nature is a false goddess.”

But if you mean by nature primary values that satisfy innate needs, then “No. Nature is not a false goddess.” The innate needs of mankind are relatedness, autonomy, and competence, which when satisfied lead to increased motivation and wellbeing, and when thwarted lead to diminished motivation and mental illness.

Yes. God is within our natural selves, but our natural selves fall short of God.

Sometimes we act as if God is broken.

God is not broken yet, but we are just getting there. When we trust God totally, we lead mankind across the threshold into the bosom of God. We are just getting to that place of total trust in the moment.

Natural Law is from God, but God sent His only Son, Jesus, to show us the example. The living Word in the Bible is needed. Work is needed. Competence is satisfied by working. Autonomy is satisfied by hearing God’s will for us in our interiorly preferred work. And relatedness is satisfied by doing that which is truly in the best interests of others.

A life well lived is intriguing.

The primary values bring “Amazing Convergence” with the work of innate needs by Richard M. Ryan, co-founder of a Center for Self Determination Theory. The primary values discovered by Loquate before innate needs of Deci and Ryan’s postulate on the topic, which has been reviewed and assimilated in hundreds of thousands of Academic Research articles, is perhaps the greatest discovery ever in Natural Human Law.

God’s creation is abundance and good. Man’s use of God’s creation is stifling at times, and destructive if not interiorly checked to see what it is doing to ourselves.

The Natural Law rule of the primary values.

Our feelings tell us if we are on target or off target as human beings. The Natural Law rule of the primary values is this: If one or more of the primary values is present in an experience, and the experience does not go against any of the other primary values, you will feel good! If the experience goes against one or more of the primary values, you will feel bad, even if other primary values are present.

And one primary value sticks out. The primary value of doing that which is truly in the best interests of others, satisfies the innate need of relatedness. For if we do that which is truly in the best interests of all others, we will be related to all mankind. That is the work of Loquate, to bring peace on earth through community with all mankind.

This is tricky business fortified by Loquate’s small group program.

Loquate’s vigor is unity for all -- in, through and by Natural Law -- not religious teaching. Its Smart® group program offers Scientific Momentum Activating Righteous Transformation through Natural Law. Like sailors eating limes to prevent scurvy, Smart® habits overcome scurvy of the human spirit which is diminished motivation and well-being. Interfaith small group members tend toward happiness or joy and increased sense of community in every group of which they are a part.

Loquate is comprehensive in this sense. It integrates religious beliefs about Spirit centered community in unity with all mankind as Biblically or Scripturally possible, nothing more.

Knowing what to solve for is key. The Loquate x factor is living our deepest beliefs in harmony with all. Those deepest beliefs are God centered. So Loquate builds an interdependence that is based on the Spirit. Living our deepest beliefs in harmony with all is a best place to live/work.

May God transform the earth through God’s graces as only God can in our respective Houses of Worship and live in peace finally. Loquate does all this. Its core competence is building God centered community in unity with all mankind. It uses technology in a good way to accomplish its work. Its services are free to the world from its Sponsors. May God’s abundance flourish! Welcome to Loquate!
