

“Family isn't always blood, it's the people in your life who want you in theirs: the ones who accept you for who you are, the ones who would do anything to see you smile and who love you no matter what.” Maya Angelou. Oct 13, 2014

You remember how a person makes you feel.

In 1977 Jeff Liataud founder of Loquate discovered primary values that build community. If one or more of the primary values is present in an experience, and the experience does not go against any of the other primary values, you will feel good. If the experience goes against one or more of the primary values, you will feel bad, even if other primary values are present. The ones in your community “would do anything to make you smile.”

They are the ones who empower you to satisfy your innate needs.

Hundreds of thousands of research articles cite Deci and Ryan.

Their science states: Innate needs when satisfied yield enhanced self-motivation and mental health and when thwarted lead to diminished motivation and well-being.

The innate needs of every human person are:

The innate need of Relatedness is satisfied by the primary value of - Doing that which is truly in the best interests of others.

The innate need of Competence is satisfied by the primary value of - Attaining goals or other ends, not necessarily preconceived as goals, but which become goals once experienced.

The innate need of Autonomy is satisfied by the primary value of - Operating in an area of meaningful expansion for yourself, that is your interiorly preferred work.

Those ones are called Smart® Ambassadors of community.

Ryan finds "Amazing Convergence"

with Loquate's primary values and community work. Smart® ambassadors satisfy innate needs through experiential learning in a Loquate Smart® group resulting in a certificate of community at three levels beginner, intermediate and expert. Like sailors eating limes to prevent scurvy, an ambassador of community overcomes the scurvy of the human spirit. And by their example they use the Smart® group as an incubator group to share experience not religious beliefs changing only themselves and no one else. Ambassadors satisfy their innate needs. Following the Smart® group protocol sufficiently as an ambassador of community leads to proliferation of authentic Spirit-centered community, not death. Their atomic discovery is that the power of the Holy Spirit will be upon all those touched by an ambassador of community. Doing so leads to happiness or joy for the ambassador and increased community in every small group of which the ambassador is a part.

The Catholic Church recommends

the work of Loquate. Catholic with a small c means universal.

Smart® Ambassadors want you to satisfy your innate needs and empower you to do so.
